

APRIL 2009 AZAGRA FARM PICTURES

Almost completed rest house.

Veggie plots to left of rest house.

Newly plowed ground for more plots.

Rest house behind, goat house right, compost pit on left foreground.

Closeup of compost pit to generate organic vermi fertilizer (via earthworms).

Second batch of pechay harvest for the market.

For home consumption.

The second calf, one hour old.

Two days later, suckling.

5 of 11 two-week old piglets suckling.

Wild herons and grazing goats.

Goat pens and special grass.

Chicken coop. Roosting hens in nests.

Enveloped mangoes near harvest time.

Drinking water trough for cows