

THE GREAT FLOOD, 25-26 Sep 09

Selected pictures from various sources with estimated locations on Google Maps

Picture 1. At the crossing of Buendia (now Sen Gil Puyat Ave) and the overpass of the South Superhighway. This always was a flood prone area from time immemorial, until the massive drainage project on the nearby esteros (Tripa de Gallina, etc) improved the system, but not enough for this flood.

Picture 2. Obviously taken from a high rise across from De La Salle University with the Light Rail Transit (LRT) and its nearby station.

Picture on left was originally labelled Pasong Tamo, which on the Google map is somewhere to the right, parallel to the South Superhighway.

Pictures 3 above indicates Araneta Avenue, locating it on the Google map, as with the Pic 4 & 5 of the submerged car taken a few minutes apart. Unspecified location of Pic on right just indicates Quezon City, which could be anywhere.

Pic 6 - original label was Katipunan Avenue Ateneo. Obviously, that is the pedestrain overpass, with view taken from a highrise. See additional comments on the Google map.

Pic 7 - original label was Katipunan Ave near Ateneo

Pic 8 - original label was Actress Christine Reyes on her Provident Village house roof.
